Lead

We've extolled the virtues of Bentley's opulent limousines from the 1990s and early 2000s many times, particularly their extraordinary value in today's market. Of course, running costs must be considered, but can you really argue when you're getting unbridled British luxury for below 50,000 euros?

In the Classic Driver Market, there's currently a raft of 1990s and early-2000s Bentley Arnages, Turbos, and Continentals priced below 50,000 euros. In fact, there are several as low as 20,000 euros. Remember, these cars new were the preserve of the ultra-wealthy and often extensively personalised to represent their tastes. As a result, no two are exactly alike. Tempted by one of these elegantly specified, hand-built luxury British barges? We certainly are!
