

CLASSIC DRIVER

Curvistan Pop-Up in Singapore celebrates the joy of travelling

Lead
In its second exhibition titled 'On Roads', Stefan Bogner's Curvistan pop-up gallery at the Mandala Club in Singapore celebrates the joy of travelling the world and Porsche's latest limited-edition sportscar – the 911 Sport Classic.

In the last 12 years, Stefan Bogner has traveled the world in search for the ultimate road, the perfect curve, without ever getting tired. For his magazine 'Curves', the German photographer, designer and publisher has documented every corner of the Alps, photographed every mountain pass and studied every serpentine like a sculpture in a gallery. Stefan has crossed the vast prairies of North America, followed the twisted jungle roads of South East Asia and even made it to 'the end of the world' in Tierra del Fuego, always driving a different Porsche matching the journey between him and the road.

Now Stefan Bogner is paying homage to the joys of travelling the world at his 'Curvistan' pop-up embassy in Singapore. Supported by Porsche and Leica, the 'On Roads' exhibition presents some Stefan's most memorable travel moments with a series of fantastic fine art prints and a vast selection of Curves magazine editions and books, including 'Mountain Passes' and the 'Porsche Drive' series. The centerpiece of the exhibition is the all-new and strictly-limited Porsche 911 Sport Classic – the perfect interface between any discerning driver and the road.

Matching the show's spirit of sophisticated travelling, Leica is showcasing some of its finest cameras. After all, what more could you wish for when travelling the world than the keys to Porsche's most desirable grand tourer and the most iconic rangefinder camera to conserve the greatest moments of the trip?

The exhibition 'On Roads' is open until 12 March 2023 at the Curvistan Pop-Up Embassy at the Mandala Club in Singapore.

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/sponsored-content/curvistan-pop-singapore-celebrates-joy-travelling> © Classic Driver. All rights reserved.