Are you looking for a high-security private parking space for your classic car or supercar in the heart of London? Classic Driver trusts Trustpark – and we recommend you to do the same.

London might be the center of the collector car world. But finding a decent and trustworthy parking garage in the center of town can be a pain – especially if your Aston Martin, Bentley, Ferrari or Porsche are in need of some extra security and attention. Luckily, our friends at Trustpark have recently opened the doors to their new high-security parking garage in the heart of London – ideally situated outside of the Congestion Charge Zone between Paddington and Marble Arch and effortlessly accessible from Knightsbridge, Mayfair and Marylebone.

Unlike many other parking and storage providers, Trustpark offers 24/7 access to its parking facility for your convenience. So no matter if you fancy a late-night joyride or a spontaneous weekend road trip, you will never end up in front of closed garage doors. Once inside, there are plenty of spaces designed for extended wheel base vehicles such as a Rolls-Royce or Bentley, something which Pegasus Cars were keen to try out with their stunning Bentley Mulsanne EWB.

With many decades of experience in the collector car world storing high-value automobiles, Trustpark uses state-of-the-art cameras from Hikvision and CCTV systems to ensure the highest level of security for your vehicle. The facility itself is clean, bright and professionally managed, providing you with peace of mind regarding your vehicle's security. A controlled ventilation system ensures a constant airflow to manage humidity, dust, and CO levels.

Battery maintenance is available to all clients. Last but not least, Trustpark provides competitive rates for all secure parking and storage options. What's more, Trustpark has partnered with Topaz Detailing and Custodian. Topaz has established itself as the go-to detailing firm across the UK, with its team of experts providing excellent services with their multiple premises around the country, with their latest underneath the Peninsula Hotel. While Topaz handle the cleaning, Custodian can assist with tailormade car insurance, while keeping your complete car history managed in their excellent app. So, if you live in London and are looking for a secure parking space, we suggest to get in touch with them and reserve your space!
