

CLASSIC DRIVER

Jeep's New 'Camper Trailers'

Rugged types who still like their luxuries can now acquire an 'off-road camper trailer' from Jeep. Despite the deceptively small size when folded up and hitched to the back of an off-road vehicle, the trailers accommodate (at a push) four adults in relative comfort.

There's a queen-size bed, a sofa (which folds out into another bed), a stowable table, a built-in aluminium cabinet, 110V power supply and a canvas enclosure to keep you safe from the elements.

Fully tested for off-road use, there are two versions of the trailer. For what Jeep calls 'casual campers', the Trail Edition has a lightweight all-aluminum construction, with 32-inch BF Goodrich Mud Terrain tyres and 12 inches of ground clearance. For your more hard-core off-roading types, there's the Extreme Trail Edition – this time with a heavier frame, 35-inch tyres and a full 15 inches of ground clearance. Not to mention a full-underbody skid plate.

The styling is suitably rugged, too. But at least the trailers come in a flamboyant range of colours... from Flame Red to Mango Tango Pearl.

The all-new Jeep Trail Edition camper costs $US9,995 and the Extreme Trail Edition $US11,995.

Text: Charis Whitcombe
Photos: Jeep

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/jeep%E2%80%99s-new-%E2%80%98camper-trailers%E2%80%99>
© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.