Porsche guru Magnus Walker and the trailer for 'Urban Outlaw'

Lead

Probably best described as a 'rebel Porsche customiser', Californian Magnus Walker is not everyone's idea of a 911 guru, but he does have taste and style by the bucket load. He also has an impressive collection of modified, early Porsches.

This short trailer shows a little of life, Magnus Walker-style, with the owner of the Los Angeles brand Serious Clothing telling the world a bit more about his obsession with Porsches.

It also features some of his customised designs: cars which combine new and old parts to great effect.
