

CLASSIC DRIVER

Jaguar E-Type 3.8 SI 'Low Drag Coupé'

Lead

For those with a yearning to go historic motor racing, a competition E-type is an excellent place to start. Fast and straightforward to drive, the cars are also eligible for many events worldwide. We found this one from Classic Driver dealer Taylor & Crawley, a perfect car for the 2013 season.

The famous 'Lightweight' series of cars produced by Jaguar in the early 60s has passed into legend. Nowadays, entry to the 'Lightweight E-type club' has a hefty multi-million-dollar price tag, and they are rarely seen outside the Goodwood Revival or Pebble Beach.

Original Lightweights aside, with their all-aluminium bodywork, 5-speed gearboxes, alloy blocks and fuel-injection, the model was raced in various stages of tune all over the world throughout the 1960s.

And it's a potent force in today's historic racing, with the Jaguar factory-supported E-type Challenge providing thrilling racing for spectator and competitor alike.

This car has been fully race-prepared at Blakeney Motorsport and is an accurate recreation of one of the most famous original Lightweights, the Lindner/Nocker streamlined 'Low Drag Coupé' that raced at Le Mans, the Nürburgring and Montlhéry.

Under the bonnet lies a 340bhp, 3.8-litre straight six with a 'wide-angle' head and dry sump lubrication. Its monocoque tub and bodywork, by RS Panels, is in aluminium, and the car has a Premier FIA safety fuel cell as well as an FIA-standard fire system.

What more do you need.

What's that, 'a trailer'? No, the FIA-papered car is road-registered so you can 'do it the old way'; get up early and drive to Silverstone for an action-packed day on the track and then drive home again. With a big smile on your face, obviously.

Photos: Taylor & Crawley

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/jaguar-e-type-38-si-%E2%80%99low-drag-coup%C3%A9%E2%80%99>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.