Have you been cheating on your Aston, Mr Bond?

Lead

Earlier today in Hethel, a man meeting the description of Daniel Craig was spotted at the Lotus factory collecting his new car...

Most would be satisfied with Aston Martin making them a bespoke supercar. However, if these pictures are anything to go by, the current Mr Bond isn't one to respect brand loyalty, as he's seen collecting his new Lotus Evora 400 (with a familiar-looking numberplate) from the factory. We can't help thinking there's something different about Craig's appearance, though - perhaps he relaxes the pout a little when he doesn't realise he's being watched? In any case, we hope he was informed that the Lotus warranty still doesn't cover damage sustained by submersion.
