

CLASSIC DRIVER

You'll never experience the al fresco fury of the 963HP drop-top LaFerrari

Lead

It was only a matter of time before Ferrari confirmed the rumours that had been circulating for so many months. A limited edition drop-top LaFerrari will make its debut at the Paris Motor Show in October, not that you'll be able to buy one – the undisclosed production run is completely sold out...

Horse whispering

Talk about ways to steal someone's thunder – no sooner had Aston Martin revealed its radical AM-RB 001 hypercar than Ferrari chose to finally lift the lid on its worse-kept secret – the convertible LaFerrari. The illustrious Modenese marque is remaining tight-lipped about details such as the car's name and the number that will be produced, but it has confirmed that it will feature both removable carbon-fibre and soft tops, and boast identical performance figures to the 950bhp coupé thanks to extensive strengthening of the chassis and honing of the aerodynamics.

Photos: Ferrari

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/cars/youll-never-experience-al-fresco-fury-963hp-drop-top-laferrari>
© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.