Leapfrog the queue for a new Porsche 911 R

Lead

If you haven't secured one of the sought-after production slots for the modern classic of the moment, the 2016 Porsche 911 R, hold back your tears for a moment. A delivery-mileage example has just surfaced in the Classic Driver Market...

Earn your stripes of envy...

All 991 build slots for the Porsche 911 R, the most in-demand sports car of the year, have long been accounted for. Boasting a manual short-throw gearbox, an ultra-spartan interior and a 4-litre flat-six that revs to 8,500rpm, it's one of the purest driving machines in production. With most not even in build yet, only a few have been put to the test by their new owners – but Classic Driver dealer Auto Reitmeier GmbH is offering the chance to leapfrog the fortunate few by offering a delivery-mileage example for sale. Obviously, you'll have to pay a premium – it's listed for 459,000 euros before tax – but with that comes an odometer showing just 36km, and a number of optional extras including the Sport Chrono package. Oh, and doses of envy and kudos in generous amounts...
