

CLASSIC DRIVER

Is Porsche's coolest car now an estate?

Lead

Although the updated Panamera drew widespread appreciation when it was released, no one was expecting Porsche's shooting brake version to be quite so gorgeous...

Wunder wagon

Countless collectors choose Ferrari FFs or Audi RS6s as their daily drivers, providing enough high-performance thrills, all-weather usability, and load-carrying ability to keep even the most obsessed car fanatic entertained. That may change, however, with the launch of the new Porsche Panamera Sport Turismo. Every Sport Turismo will be all-wheel drive with four engine options: base V6, E-Hybrid, S, and the big-daddy 543bhp V8 Turbo — surely the model that will feature most in their order forms, with its supposed 0-60 time of 3.4 seconds. Orders are being taken now, with expected delivery towards the end of 2017. We'll have ours in Brewster Green with a Saddle Brown interior, danke...

Photos: Porsche

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/cars/porsches-coolest-car-now-estate> © Classic Driver. All rights reserved.