Ever wondered how the Automobili Amos Delta Futurista came to be?

Lead

Featuring interviews with Automobili Amos' founder Eugenio Amos, designer Carlo Borromeo, and other key personalities involved with the project, this new series of films documents the conception and birth of the magnificent Lancia Delta Futurista...

How it all started

Early last year, we broke news of Eugenio Amos' plans to build and sell a restomod Lancia Delta Integrale in the same vein as the Porsche 911 'reimagined' by Singer. Since then, the car has made its debut at the inaugural Grand Basel and production on the 20 customer cars has begun. Now, a new series of videos produced by Automobili Amos explores how the Futurista came to be, from its conception by Amos and designer Carlo Borromeo to the birth of the very first car in Piedmont, not far from Turin. So, stick the kettle on and indulge for 10 minutes – we promise you won't regret it.
