You might not be able to attend the 24 Hours of Le Mans this weekend, but with these items from the Classic Driver Market, you can still celebrate the 88th running of the French endurance classic...

A plethora of different cars from all ages which have actually competed at the Circuit de la Sarthe, including such significant machines as the Team Oreca Chrysler Viper that famously won the GTS class in 2000 and was subsequently immortalised by the cult-classic video game Gran Turismo. A rare Laurent Ferrier watch celebrating the Le Mans podium finish of its maker in 1979. A Le Mans-themed version of The Mechanists' classic steering wheel bracelet. And, of course, Amalgam's beguiling 1:8-scale replica of the Salzburg 917K which won Porsche its first Le Mans back in 1970. The postponed 88th running of the history-steeped 24-hour race is sadly closed to spectators this weekend - thanks a bunch Covid-19. Thankfully, both the Classic Driver Market and the Classic Driver Shop are teeming with desirable objects perfect for throwing your own Le Mans-themed celebration. Enjoy the race, ladies and gents!
